twenty weekers were at the altar. The morning services at the stand this morning were full of interest. During the interval between this and public services, prayer meetings were held in various tents, and the sound of praise arose on all sides. The congregation met at the stand for public service at 10½ o'clock. A hymn was announced and prayed offered by Dr. Reiley. On account of the rain commencing to fall, it was decided to adjourn to the tabernacle. A procession was formed and the congregation went in

A SIGNIFICANT LETTER FROM GEN, BUT

Gen. Butler was invited to address a public meeting under the auspices of the Legal Tender Club of this city. Other engagements making it impossible for him to be present the General writes: I am unable to comprehend drappecciate, and much less to admire that system of government finances, which has so wrought on the business and production of the country; that over two million working men and women desire unductive embloyment. women desire productive employment which employment they have not had for the last two years, and by which production they would have added to the wealth of the country. During that time we have lost one billion two hundred million, or about equal to half of the national debt by their enforced ideness, to say nothing of the loss of the moral of working men and women. How long men in active business, and property holders, and holders of those kinds of property which are open to taxes will permit a system of financial administration to go on by which their to taxes will permit a system of financial administration to go on by which their property shall fall thirty three per cent in value, and owners of property, such as notes and bonds which are untaxed because they are not open to taxes, and have their property appreciated, and excape taxes is a problem which the good sense of the people of the United States will solve the coming Presidential election.
